Southern Political Sentiment.

The Louisville Journal scouts the idea of Chief Justice Chase being the Democratic candidate for President and it expresses the regret that any Democrat has thought fit to mention him as a possible candidate It says "To talk of making him the candidate is at once to cripple his influence over his followers and to confess our inability to elect a man of our own It is suicidal The Journal urges the nomination of Pendleton for whom the State delegation was instructed by the convention last February

The Danville (Va) Register is unable to see wherein Chase is better than Grant It says that if the Democracy are going to abandon the high ground which they have held that that this is a white man's government change their policy, and try to take the wind out of the Republican sails for the sole purpose of getting into harbor first and securing the prizes, then there is an end to all difference and the whole thing dwindles down into a contest for place and power The Democratic party will be absorbed in other and new political organizations, and never raise the old standard again

The Alexandria (Va) State Journal says that every voter in the broad land who is not a lunatic on the State Right question or still bedeviled by the 'lost cause,' will read in General Grant's letter of acceptance a surcease of the bitterness, the unrest and trouble with which the President has afflicted the South, and it thinks that, if wise, they will vote for the magnanimous victor of Appomattox Court House, and trust him on his promise of assured peace and prosperity

The Augusta (Ga) National Republican boasts that although the Republican party in that State is but twelve months old, it has excited more interest encountered more abuse and achieved a greater victory than any party has ever done in the history of the State And in defining the objects and aims of the party it says among other things, that it proposes to give every one a fair start in the race of life and let every one succeed or fail according to his merits, the people themselves being the judges

Hon P Phillips, who once represented the Mobile District in Congress, writes to Alabama urging that delegates be sent to the New York Convention from every Southern State, and at the same time says that the South cannot afford to adopt a man as the Democratic candidate because of his past friendliness, or to reject one because of his past hostility The South, he says, has now to play at a game in which it would be fatal to lose a trick.

The Wilmington Journal stands ready to endorse the action of the Democratic National Convention on the financial questions, whether it be to pay the debt in gold or in greenbacks, or to repudiate it in toto Give the South what it demands in other respects, and it cares not for mere plans of financial policy.

The Mobile Tribune vigorously opposes the sending of delegates to the New York Convention, on the ground that for Alabama to take part in the selection of a Chief Magistrate for her conquerors would be at once ridiculous and degrading

The Montgomery (Ala.) Mail expresses the belief that the nomination of a peace Democrat for the Presidency would blast the present prospects of the party, and hurl the South into the depths of [illegible].

The Memphis Avalanche exhorts its readers to have no social intercourse whatever with those who do not agree with them in their political views. The Memphis Post retorts that isolation from him who will not tolerate political differences is as desirable as isolation from wild beasts who will tear you asunder

Congress and the Whisky Ring.

[From the Indianapolis Journal]

The combination of thieves popularly known as the whisky ring must be broken up, and it is the duty of Congress to so legislate as to destroy it before they adjourn It had its origin in the perfidious desertion of the Republican party by Andrew Johnson, and his resulting efforts to build up a party of his own by a corrupt use of the patronage connected with his office. He did not stop to inquire whether a man seeking an appointment at his hands was qualified for the office, least of all whether he had a character for integrity and honesty, but the sole qualification demanded was devotion, real or assumed, to Andrew Johnson, and a capacity for nursing Congress equal to his

By accident an honest man was occasionally appointed in the revenue service by Mr Johnson and before he could accomplish the job of turning out all the officers appointed by his predecessor, the tenure of office law was interposed between him and the remnant of his intended victims so that a fragment of officers having charge of the collection of internal taxes are faithful in the discharge of their duties, but the mass of them particularly in the large cities, are unmitigated rascals, and many of them are, with reason believed to be members of the whisky ring

The prime object of the amended tax bill now under consideration in the House of Representatives is to provide more efficient means for collecting the revenue, and to break up the corrupt and thieving combinations which are diverting so large a share of it to their own pockets It is certain that so long as the appointment of collectors and assessors is left in Mr Johnson's hands there will be no improvement in this matter, for not only has he been perfectly indifferent to the systematic robbery of the treasury in the past, but he has interfered with the course of justice by freely pardoning those convicted by the courts of flagrant violations of the revenue laws As reform under his supervision is not to be hoped for the Committee of Ways and Means provided in the bill reported by them that there should be established a Department of Internal Revenue, of which the Commissioner of Internal Revenue should be the head and that he should have power to remove and appoint at pleasure all officers employed in his department That would make the Commissioner responsible for the collection of the revenue, and enable him to hold his subordinates responsible for neglect of duty It is clearly within the Constitutional authority of Congress to take the appointment of revenue officers from the President and lodge the appointing power in the heads of departments for the Constitution expressly empowers this to be done and we believe the power ought to be exercised It is impossible that the change would make matters worse, while it offers every probability in favor of improvement

But this provision has been stricken out in the Committee of the Whole, and if the House shall sustain the act of the Committee, the hope of getting rid of Johnson's dishonest appointees must be abandoned

The bill might be so amended as to give the Secretary of the Treasury complete control of the revenue service and the appointment of the officers connected with it, but we doubt whether any thing would be gained by that So far as this State is concerned it would be equivalent to transferring the appointing power to Thomas A Hendricks, without the present wholesome restraint of the Senatorial guardianship, and as the President can find means of getting rid of any Secretary who fails to follow his direction in all things there would, as a general proposition, really be no change, except for the worse, by taking the appointing power from him and conferring it nominally on the Secretary of the Treasury John son's blood suckers would be kept in office, even if the Secretary was disposed to oust them, as his own place would depend upon Mr Johnson's favor

If Congress shall deem it expedient to create a new Revenue Department, independent of both the President and Secretary of the Treasury, there is but one alternative, and that is a heavy reduction of the whisky tax It must be placed at a rate so low as to starve out the whisky ring by making its iniquitous business unprofitable If a tax of fifty cents per gallon will do that, let it be fifty cents, but if that offers a sufficient chance for plunder to keep the villainous organization alive, let it be reduced to twenty five cents That rate will bring the Government as large a revenue as it is now receiving from the two dollar tax, and relieve the consumers of whisky from paying fifty millions per annum to the ring

Messrs Congressmen the people expect you to throttle thieves who are robbing the Government of its proper revenues How it is to be done they leave to your discretion but done it must be

General Grant as an Executive Officer

[From the Chicago Tribune]

What the country needs at this important period of its history is not a great legislator—we have had legislation enough for all practical purposes That the country needs now is not a great jurist, who has devoted his life to the study of the law and is able to point out ninety nine modes of defeating a law without violating it It needs a man who as President will know that his duty is to execute and not to make laws who will accept the law as made by the Legislature as his guide and not as a means to 'make a case' for the courts The country wants a President who will take care that the laws be faithfully executed and will not assume a power to set them aside, amend alter or ignore them The country wants a President who will be an executive, with the firmness to execute the national will regardless of any clamor or threats—a man who will take the law as he finds it, and hold every person in office under him from the highest to the lowest, to the same unquestioning obedience to the law

The country can dispense with diplomatic, legislative, judicial and scientific eminence in the President (a man might have all these and be a cypher as an Executive), but the man whose life has been one of rigid accountability to his own superiors whose duty from first to last has been obedience to law—and a requirement of the same implicit obedience from all under him—whose experience as an executive has included the actual management and control of immense armies in hostile States, embarrassed by countless adversities incident to a long and previously profitless war and who never failed because of any oversight or inattention on his part in having all the executive duties of all these armies promptly and faithfully performed—such a man is the one demanded by the present exigencies of the country, and such a man is to be found at this time in Gen U S Grant

The country not only needs a President who will bring to the office practical executive ability but it wants a Chief Magistrate who, [illegible] to strict integrity and prompt accountability in all his own official relations will enforce the same upon all his subordinates We want no President and Secretary of the Treasury to declare that the reason they do not collect the public revenue is the utter corruption and dishonesty of their subordinates The country wants an Executive who will brook no delinquency, who will palliate no omission to perform official duty, and who will regulate the execution of public duties with the precision and fidelity required by military discipline

The brief administration of General Grant as Acting Secretary of War afforded an indication of his mode of performing executive duties Within ninety days he had dismissed useless officers, abolished sinecures, discontinued expenditures, and stopped useless contracts, to an amount equalling fifteen millions of dollars per annum

Placed in the office of Chief Executive, with all the departments under his control, and the vast machinery of the government at his command, the saving of millions in the War Office will be doubled and quadrupled. A vast amount of public money supposed to be expended is literally wasted under the loose system of accountability in public offices, but with an experienced Executive like Grant, this waste will be arrested.

As in the dark hour of 1864, Grant was raised up as if by a special Providence to terminate the war by a suppression of the rebellion, so the present occasion, when the country is imperiled by faithless officers, he seems to have been endowed with all those peculiar qualities which make him so pre eminently the man for the Presidency

With Grant for President, who is there that can doubt that Reconstruction will be completed, the freedom of the Southern people maintained, the peace and union of the country preserved, and the financial honor and credit of the nation protected from all assaults? To accomplish these vital ends the country needs an honest Executive and such [illegible] in the soldier and patriot, U. S. Grant.

As in 1864 he succeeded to a command where incompetency inexperience, treachery and vainglorious vanity had so long wrought disaster, defeat and calamity to the country, and by his military skill his indomitable perseverance and energy, his inflexible candor and honesty, and his unflinching patriotism, reversed the disastrous record of the past, and delivered disarmed rebels into the hands of the American people, so in 1868, backed by the same American people whom he has so nobly served, he will deliver unto these distressed, Andrew Johnson and his Democratic confederates who are now seeking the destruction of the national credit, and who are stealing the public revenue through their agents in office These men he will strip of their places, and their plunder, and as he disbanded Lee's traitors so he will parole the hordes of Johnson's office holders who are plundering the nation.

Vallandigham Defines his Position

The New York Herald has called upon Mr Vallandigham to tell the country what he is about and Mr V , not hesitating steps forward and says

* * * Nothing remains but to fight the battle of 1868 upon the living issues of the hour. And to maintain that it will be impossible to harmonize upon these questions of the present without unmanly surrender, is to impeach the intelligence and patriotism of the Democratic party and of those who are willing to act with it

As to candidates, this paper is the partisan of no man for the Presidency Our first choice—for we seek not only the best, but the strongest man—is the most decided and ultra 'peace Democrat being a statesman in the exalted sense of that word, who can be found. In present circumstances we prefer Mr Pendleton We are satisfied that he is the choice of the Democratic masses—a small matter, it is true with the politicians in these times We believe that with a sagacious but bold and manly canvass he can surely be elected Next to him we are for any competent man of similar principles record and antecedents

As to Chief Justice Chase we said some two weeks ago and now repeat, referring to the suggestion of candidates from men not identified with the Democratic party during the war

No gentlemen excuse us If so hard pressed for material as to be forced outside of the Democratic party for a candidate we are for Chase If there is to be a 'bargain' let there be a 'consideration If there is to be a sale let us have 'value received'—even if paid in greenbacks If for lack of brains we are compelled to fall back on an 'outsider' let us see to it that we get brains

But if anything shall reconcile positive Democrats to Chase, in any contingency it is the fact that he is a statesman and civilian and not a military man nor yet identified personally with the exercise of violent arbitrary power in the States which adhered to the Union

As to General Dix we say frankly to the Herald that he is scarcely less obnoxious than Ambrose E Burnside And, besides on the Herald's own theory of the union of the Democracy and all the opposing elements how is such a thing for a moment possible upon the basis of a ticket made up of one candidate from the War Democracy and the other from the Republican party? This is but to repeat in aggravated form the unspeakable folly of the Philadelphia Convention of 1866

A CALL UPON MR PENDLETON.—Mr Pendleton's friends say that the West will come up to the Democratic Convention in such force that his nomination will be secure We doubt if Mr Pendleton can get a two-thirds vote but should he be able to obtain that what would be the use? The people of this country are not prepared to ignore the principles and results of the war which are so fresh in their minds and Mr Pendleton who stands in direct antagonism to them would be defeated The question is, then, will Mr Pendleton be wise enough and have patriotism enough to forego the barren honor of a nomination for the sake of the country, the Democratic party, and the defeat of the Jacobin radical party? We call upon him, therefore, to withdraw as a candidate and come out frankly for nominating [illegible] that can carry the election Chief Justice Chase and General Dix make the right ticket to win with at the present time Mr Chase is an able statesman, and since the slavery question has been settled, comes nearest to the conservative [illegible] of the country and the platform which the new National Democratic party ought to stand on. General Dix who represents fully the War Democracy, and who patriotically declared that the first man should be shot on the spot who hauled down the national flag would be a popular candidate associated with Mr Chase It is just the ticket to win and to give assurance of an able and conservative Government What does Mr. Pendleton say Will he forego the barren honor of being a candidate for the sake of the country and the success of the new National [illegible]—N. Y Herald June 3d.

The Alta thinks that the shortest way for the Democratic papers to get rid of [illegible] would be to prove that [illegible] any war at all in this country." That last feat will be nothing at all to what they are capable of Chase.

[illegible] the speculations about Chase's nomination by the Democratic party have taken the shape of serious inquiry as to the probabilities of his getting two-thirds of the Convention on the first ballot, none will longer doubt that the Chief Justice is actually in the field as a formidable candidate. Six months ago Chase was regarded as too "Radical" for the Republicans. Now, he is thought to be quite "conservative" enough for Democrats. The mere talk of his nomination, if it amounts to nothing more, shows how utterly [illegible] the Democratic managers consider [illegible] for success on the ground the party has formerly held. The Chase movement [illegible] they are conscious of the [illegible] of making the people believe that the party has [illegible] through and come up out of the [illegible] of Copperheadism in which it has been floundering so long.

That Chase is anxious for the nomination and that he has been for some months intriguing [illegible] to [illegible] the honor of the man who is Chief of the Supreme judiciary of the nation, and who, if he receives the nomination, will be compelled to surrender for it many of his life-long convictions [illegible] fellowship with those whom [illegible] opposed.

The platform [illegible] ago was announced as [illegible] author, whoever he [illegible] arts and practices of the common demagogue. No wonder, says the New York Herald, that Mr. Seward could not [illegible] in his delight at the prospect of being called [illegible] by the President to prepare a reply of corresponding length.

Opinions of a Model Democrat.

The Herald publishes a paragraph informing its readers that that noted Democrat, "General" Forrest says,—"The only hope of the restoration of a good Government in this country is in the success of the Democracy in the next Presidential campaign." It must pain every reader to learn that the hero of the Fort Pillow massacre is so despondent. It is not long since this Democratic patriot supposed that "the only hope for the restoration of a good government in this country" was in the success of the Southern Confederacy. To accomplish that end he butchered unresisting prisoners without mercy. But his hopeful patriotism was doomed to disappointment, for the "good government" of the Confederacy went down. As the next best thing he is now endeavoring to secure the triumph of the "Democratic" party, in which organization he is about as conspicuous as he was in the service of the "white man's government" of "President" Davis. The following account, taken from the proceedings of the "Democratic" State Convention of Tennessee, held at Nashville, on the 9th June, give additional interesting intelligence in regard to this "Democratic" leader:

> A committee was appointed to report delegates to the National Democratic Convention, and Humphrey Bates was amongst those named as delegates at large. A motion was made to strike out Bate' name and insert that of the rebel General N. B. Forrest. A tremendous debate at once arose. Those who opposed Forrest did it on the ground that though they regarded him as a perfectly worthy man, the time had not yet come to put him forward, and it would not be good policy to do so. Those who favored him said the rebel element so-called must no longer be ignored; that it constituted the largest portion of the Democratic party of the State; that Forrest was one of the best and purest of men and the greatest cavalry officer that ever lived; that if the Democratic party could not honor such a man as he was, it was but a poor party after all; and various other things of a similar kind. Forrest himself was present, and made several speeches in his own behalf. Finally the vote as to whether he should be retained was taken by Congressional Districts, and resulted five ayes to three noes. Two of the districts which voted no belong to East and the other to West Tennessee. The announcement of the result was received with prolonged yells, proclaiming that the rebel element had triumphed; that the last pretences of Unionism were cast aside, and that the hero of the Fort Pillow massacre, the darling of the guerrillas and Ku Klux, was presented to the world as a thoroughly appropriate representative of the Democracy of Tennessee.
> The Committee on Resolutions made a report which gave rise to another interminable debate. A long preamble declares a formal adhesion to the Democratic party.
>
> The first resolution says the question of secession was submitted to the arbitrament of arms, and decided in the negative; but that none of the States lost any rights in consequence of the war.
>
> The sixth endorses Andrew Johnson, and instructs the Tennessee delegates to the National Democratic Convention to support him if his name is presented there for the Presidency, but, if not, [illegible] them to co-operate in the selection of somebody else.
>
> To the first resolution the rebel element made a fierce opposition. They declared secession a right of which neither they nor their children were willing to be deprived; that in five or ten years they might wish to exercise that right again and that, if the Convention did not want to endorse it, nothing at all ought to be said about it. They fought for secession, and they would not now stultify them[illegible] by pronouncing against it. The most ultra rebel sentiments were greeted with the [illegible] yells of delight, but every motion to strike out the [illegible] was in some way evaded by the Chairman, and it [illegible].
> It was the same way with the resolution about Andy Johnson. Four-fifths of the Convention were in favor of Pendleton. The ablest speeches of the day were made in his favor. The resolution was on all sides most vigorously denounced. Not a single man spoke in favor of it as it stood, yet, by dint of [illegible] by the Chair, the [illegible] was at last [illegible] out, and the [illegible] was [illegible] with the rest.
>
> A resolution, asking J[illegible] to issue a proclamation of general amnesty was adopted.
>
> The following are the delegates at large to the National Democratic Convention: T. A. R. Nelson, A. O. P. Nicholson, N. B. Forrest, E. Cooper. Alternates—J. M. Fleming, J. C. Brown, P. T. Scruggs, [illegible].
> The [illegible] element was very numerous in the Convention. [illegible] officers, military and civil, who have kept out of politics heretofore were in full feather.

STATE ITEMS.

The vote in Wasco county for G. W. Waldron, [illegible], and A. W. Buchanan, Democrat, candidates for County Treasurer, was a tie. Under an [illegible] Judge Wilson the candidates [illegible] for the office. Waldron was the fortunate [illegible].

The Sentinel says that the machinery for the [illegible] Mills at Ashland has arrived at San Francisco, and will be shipped to Crescent City by the steamer of the 5th of July. It will not be many [illegible] till we hear the hum of the spindle up the valley, and may their music never cease.

A Roseburg [illegible] says: A committee appointed to survey and lay out the Coos Bay Wagon Road have completed their work, and report the distance from this place to available navigation to be about 60 miles. The committee were favorably impressed with the general character of the country through which the road passes.

Fox, Patty & Co., who were running a tunnel in the hill facing Allen's Gulch, in Josephine county, [illegible] word that they have struck the channel and with it rich pay, there being a very large bed of gravel which prospects three bits to the pan.

Gen. Elliott informs the Idaho Statesman that he has had official confirmation of the late Indian [illegible], from Camp Stanton, and that one hundred and thirty Indians have come into camp and surrendered, and want peace hereafter. We also [illegible] cavalry starting out yesterday, which, we are informed, will bring in the captives when they return.

In [illegible] railroad matters a Jacksonville paper says: Emigration is crowding westward rapidly, and it will be strange indeed if valleys like that of Sprague river, Chewaucan and Link river will not attract it. It seems as if Nature intended the mining population of scorched and barren Nevada and Idaho to draw their supplies flour, bacon and timber—from this region; and the time is approaching when they will do so.

Says the Roseburg paper: Mr. Fitch, who has just returned from Bohemia, reports everything lively in that camp. About forty men have pushed through the snow and commenced work. Mr. F. will soon have an [illegible] running from Oakland to the mines for the accommodation of all who may wish anything transmitted on short time; he will make [illegible] trip in one day, passing over [illegible].

L. H. Wood[illegible], Republican candidate for Sheriff, and [illegible], late candidate for Clerk in [illegible], are contesting for those offices, [illegible] on the ground that Howard his [illegible] is ineligible to the office on account of having formerly been, as is alleged, a collector of [illegible] money and failed to account for the same according to law. Church contests on the ground of illegal voting and for the further alleged reason that one of the precincts whose votes were counted in Grant belongs to Umatilla county.

Says the Jacksonville Reveille: We were shown some specimens of quartz, brought from Canyon creek, in Josephine county, by Mr. Colwell, which were exceedingly rich. Specimens have been sent to San Francisco to be assayed, which the owner computed would yield from three to five thousand dollars to the ton. Large pieces of pure gold are found flattened between layers of the quartz. The ledge is worked by arastra process; and the fortunate owner has set as a price upon the ledge the moderate sum of $270,000.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—About 3 o'clock P. M. yesterday, Mrs. Ellen C. Dix committed suicide, at No. 509 Dupont street, by shooting herself through the heart with a derringer pistol. She came to this city about three months since from the East, representing herself as the wife of a man doing business here. It now appears that the person who lived with her was not her husband. The Railroad Suits.

PORTLAND, June 30th, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Your paper of this morning contained a letter over the signature of J. H. Mitchell, in which it is charged that the dispatch sent from Salem on last Saturday in regard to Judge Boise's decision in the railroad cases, was false. Being the attorney of the Oregon Central Railroad Company, against the east side Company, I sent the dispatch in question to Joseph Gaston, President of the Oregon Central. The dispatch, so far as related to the decisions, was in these words:

"Leave to bring quo warranto denied. Our complaint in equity sustained."

The records of the Circuit Court at Salem, show that every word and syllable of this dispatch was strictly true; and I think it safe to assume that those records are as good evidence as the paid statements of an employee of "A. J. Cook & Co's" ten cent stock concern.

DIRECT TRADE WITH OREGON —Under this head the San Francisco Commercial Herald of th[illegible] d[illegible] ...at says

We learn from the OREGONIAN of J[illegible] that the [illegible] State disgusted with th[illegible] mal administration and selfish neglect of the Calif[illegible] ia Oregon and Mexico Steamship Company have at length commenced to do what they should long ago have done They have established a regular line of sailing vessels to run direct between Portland and New York The first vessel of the line the bark Sallie Brown, was to leave New York on the 7th of May, with a cargo of general merchandise Her [illegible] was to be laid on the berth by the 1st of June.

We [illegible] the ship Jennie Alice 1,400 tons ... sailed from Hongkong on the 15th of May with ... go direct for Portland The merchants of that city should now obtain a couple of powerful tugs and cut themselves loose from the delays expenses a[illegible] ...ces to which they have so long been subjected [illegible] relations with Oregon must be in exact ratio [illegible] the wealth and prosperity of that State, upon which Portland is dependent The system of direct importation of foreign and domestic goods, and exportation of Oregon produce to foreign and Atlantic markets must result [illegible] to the interests of the Oregonians and [illegible] lead to greatly increase our business with the [illegible] We have only to note the importance of the coasting trade between Philadelphia, New York and [illegible] arrive at some idea of the future [illegible] relations between San Francisco, Portland and ports [illegible] we can populate Oregon, the sooner such a desirable end will be reached and the [illegible] to establish direct [illegible] between her people and those of other [illegible] years [illegible] direct [illegible] lucrative trade with the Sandwich Islands and [illegible] no reason why she can not extend her direct [illegible] relations to other places, with equal facility and [illegible] profit.

The next step will be to place an opposition line of [illegible] on the route between Portland and San Francisco, [illegible] now in existence having proved itself [illegible] During the current harvest year, the Oregonians suffered severe loss by their [illegible] high prices [illegible] finally compelled to lay down their [illegible] such [illegible] Californians to place their crops in the New York and [illegible]

[illegible] who [illegible] a year at New York, engaged in starting a [illegible] line of vessels to run direct between that city [illegible] days and twenty two hours, overland In relation to direct freighting between New York and Portland [illegible] if the merchants of Portland will patronize the line there [illegible] as often as once a month In any event vessels already secured will be [illegible] from New York as often as cargoes can be had. The first class brig Sallie Brown sailed May 11th, with 800 tons merchandise, consigned to Portland [illegible] She is a new vessel—only eighteen months old. The bark [illegible] of 800 tons carrying [illegible] is now on the berth for Portland and will sail within the next thirty five days. She is only six months old. Others will follow as rapidly as the trade will warrant There [illegible] no good [illegible] why our [illegible] should not patronize this line and thus realize the [illegible] of the [illegible] trade with New York."

Of the trip [illegible] Mr [illegible] says, he came by rail from New York to Laramie City, 600 miles west of Omaha; thence by stage via Salt Lake City and Boise to Wallula, and thence by steamboat On and after July 1st, if the proper [illegible] the trip can be accomplished from New York to Laramie City, by [illegible] in four days; [illegible] to Salt Lake by [illegible] days; thence to Boise City, three days; [illegible] to Umatilla, three days and [illegible] to Portland in one day and a half, total fourteen and a half days [illegible] The proper route to take is, from New York by the N. Y. Central and Michigan Central to [illegible] The cost of the trip is about as follows From New York to [illegible], $50, currency, Omaha to Boise City, [illegible] Boise City to Portland, $51 50, coin [illegible] expenses, on route, about $00, currency.

Mr [illegible] says there are some emigrants on the road, but east of Salt Lake, he was unable to learn the destination of any great number of them. Between Salt Lake and Boise [illegible] 90 wagons with Mormon families, all [illegible]

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned and placed on their guard against this practice

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers, Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache General Debility Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation Colic, Intermittent Fevers, [illegible] Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or

PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element no fiery excitant but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters The testimony on this point is conclusive and from both sexes

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them

Last but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present [illegible] in all the ordinary tonics and all varieties of [illegible]

Little Women.

HOW THEY EXCEL OTHERS OF THEIR SEX.

[From the Saturday Review.]

As a rule the little woman is brave. When the lymphatic giantess falls into a faint or goes off into hysterics, she storms, or bustles about, or holds on like a game terrier, according to the work on hand. She will fly at any man who annoys her, and bears herself as equal to the biggest and strongest of her acquaintance. In general she does it all by sheer pluck, and is not notorious for subtlety or craft. Had Delilah been a little woman, she would never have taken the trouble to shear Samson's locks. She would have defied him with all his strength untouched on his head, and she would have overcome him too.

Judith and Jael were both probably large women. The work they went about demanded a certain strength of muscle and toughness of sinew; but who can say that Jezabel was not a [illegible] all, freckled, auburn-haired Lady Audley of her time, full of the concentrated fire, the electric force, the passionate recklessness of her type? Regan and Goneril might have been beautiful demons of the same pattern; we have the example of the Marchioness de Brinvilliers as to what amount of spiritual devilry can exist with the face and manner of an angel direct from heaven; and perhaps Cordelia was a tall dark-haired girl, with a pair of brown eyes, and a long nose sloping downwards. Look at modern Jewesses, with their flashing Oriental orbs, their night-black tresses, and the dusky shadows of their olive-colored complexion; as catalogued properties according to the ideal, they would be placed in the list of the natural criminals and law-breakers, while in reality they are about as meek and docile a set of women as are to be found within the four seas. Pit a fiery little Welch woman or a petulant Parisienne against the [illegible] Saxonic amongst them, and let [illegible] try conclusions in courage, in energy or in audacity; the Israelitish Juno will go down before either of the small Philistines, and the fallacy of weight and color in the generation of power will be shown without the [illegible] of [illegible]. Even in those old days of long ago, when human characteristics were embodied and deified, we do not find that the white-armed, large-limbed Hebe, though queen by right of [illegible] over her sister-goddesses by any [illegible] or force of nature. On the [illegible], she was rather a [illegible] person, and, unless moved to anger by her husband's numerous infidelities, [illegible] life placidly enough, and [illegible] got cheated in a way that did [illegible] no great credit. A little French [illegible] would have sailed round her [illegible]; [illegible] shrewish though she was in [illegible] when provoked, her husband not [illegible] but chastised her, and [illegible] and obedience as no [illegible] have suffered herself to be [illegible].

There is [illegible] race of [illegible] en who [illegible] probably the powerfully-built large-limbed creatures, they are assumed to have been, and as brave and energetic as they were strong and big—the Norse women of the sagas [illegible] for good or evil, seem to have been a [illegible] influential element in the old Northern life. Prophetesses, physicians, dreamers of dreams, and the accredited interpreters as well, [illegible] endowed with magic powers, admitted to [illegible] in the councils of men, brave in war, wise in peace, these fair-haired Scandinavian women were the fit comrades of their [illegible] and mothers of the Berserkers and the Vikings. They had no time or easy life of it, if all we hear of them is true. To [illegible] the farm and homestead during [illegible] and to keep themselves [illegible] all bold rovers to whom the [illegible] was an unknown [illegible] and bewilder by magic arts when they could not conquer by open strength; to [illegible] craft and courage, [illegible] and daring [illegible] no [illegible]. But the [illegible] equally [illegible] of fate or fortune, and [illegible] of their [illegible] by [illegible] when [illegible] and who [illegible] by fraud. The [illegible] only [illegible] framed [illegible] energetic and as crafty, [illegible] of no other women [illegible] characteristics, and are [illegible].

[illegible] whole, then, the little women have [illegible] their bigger [illegible] more powerful, they [illegible] it really [illegible] to contest a point [illegible]. There is nothing [illegible] in any victory [illegible] may get [illegible]. While there is [illegible] of strength, there can [illegible] in the self-imposed defeat [illegible] it is always [illegible] war, and as big men [illegible] like that not to put [illegible] of tiny feet, the [illegible] on her way triumphant to [illegible] all the [illegible], she does not like, and [illegible] all the [illegible] ters that [illegible] perfectly inaudible and [illegible] in all circumstances and under any [illegible].

The [illegible] picture we have seen for a [illegible] out of a professedly comic [illegible] number of the [illegible] the [illegible] of a [illegible]. The cows stand [illegible] is a tube with [illegible] tubes com[illegible] are driven by [illegible] thus [illegible] are set to work, and [illegible] neatly, [illegible] "the cows soon learn to [illegible] if fed or [illegible] a few [illegible]."

[illegible]—The Dubuque (Iowa) [illegible]. One of our exchanges in [illegible] claims the honor of the residence of the oldest Mason in the United States. We think it is a mistake. David Stiles, of this city, was initiated at Toronto, C. W., on the 27th of December, 1797, when William [illegible] was Grand master of Canada. The lodge at Toronto was No. 16 of that jurisdiction. Mr. Stiles was born in Connecticut, May 11, 1766, [illegible] is [illegible] 102 years old and has been a Mason 71 years. We challenge [illegible] to give the name of an older living [illegible] the North [illegible], and the United [illegible] the [illegible] of an older Mason."

Only six very large diamonds are known in the world, and they are called paragons. Their names are "The Koh-i-noor" (in the possession of Queen Victoria,) "The Star of the South," "The Regent" or "Pitt" diamond, "The Great Austrian," "The Orloff," or "Great Russian," and the "Borneo." The latter is in the possession of the Rajah of Maltan, in Borneo. It is the largest known, weighing three hundred and sixty-seven carats, but it is in the uncut state.

It is discovered that the grandfather of the Hon. George H. Pendleton was a tanner, while General Grant is not only the son of one tanner and the brother of another, but he is a tanner himself and has been in the business all through the war. If there be any Presidential virtue in tan-bark, Grant "has the drop" on Pendleton.

In proof of the "elevating influence" of the drama, a New York paper says: "There are now over three hundred women at the Broadway theaters who can kick a man's hat off, though he be six feet high. Any [illegible] against elevating tendency of art?"

H. W. SHIPLEY'S

PACIFIC TURBINE WATER WHEEL.

THESE WHEELS EXCEL ANY OTHER WHEEL in use, and are [illegible] on the [illegible] American Turbine, but excel it in every particular.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern:—One A. Myers is publishing and circulating a statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel, and he will "prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the law." His statements are not worth a denial. His game is "Bluff," which, if he would only take the case to Court, would soon be played out. Don't believe him!

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his [illegible]. The legal opinions of [illegible] than Dodge & Munn and A. Myers have pronounced my patents no infringement on the American Turbine. H. W. SHIPLEY.

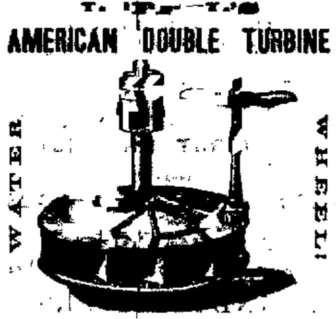
LEFFEL'S

AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE



THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the "James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel," and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say, and am not playing "bluff," I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

"MR. A. MYERS—In accordance with your request, we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels, and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Lefel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel, does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tiers of buckets, whether alone or with a third, or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours,

DODGE & MUNN.

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it be the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement, whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.

A. MYERS.

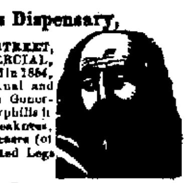
Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies. See that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal [illegible], the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the [illegible] responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain [illegible] relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to [illegible] radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have [illegible] promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus awards to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly [illegible] of San Francisco and [illegible], are tried, [illegible] and be [illegible] too [illegible] at their trades. Some are [illegible], [illegible] carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical [illegible] but you will find their [illegible] in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition [illegible] may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are [illegible], there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address [illegible] Box [illegible]
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX [illegible] ON THE LETTER.
[illegible] FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his [illegible] in the Daily Oregonian.
